

Prize Egg Recipes

In a recent recipe contest, we asked for readers' favorite egg recipes. The variety of entries was astonishing, and selecting only two winners was difficult. But select we did . . . and here they are, an imaginative and spicy variation on scrambled eggs, and an unusual hard-cooked egg creation.

BAKED CURRIED SCRAMBLED EGGS

The Baked Curried Scrambled Eggs recipe came to us from Ms. Hessy Hiestand, who says the recipe is one of her favorites to serve at large brunch parties: "I devised this method of cooking eggs without a last-minute rush; it can all be assembled before the guests arrive." We're all for do-ahead food, so it's a special pleasure to make this a winner. Ms. Hiestand serves sautéed ham slices topped with pineapple with the eggs. She also makes another version of this recipe by omitting the curry and substituting thinly sliced Jack or Swiss cheese and buttered bread crumbs for the almonds.

6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
16 eggs
2 cups canned or prepared white sauce
2 teaspoons curry powder
1 teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{8}$  teaspoon pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup toasted sliced almonds

Melt butter or margarine and cream cheese in a 12-in. skillet. Beat together eggs, white sauce, curry powder, salt and pepper. Pour egg mixture into skillet, stirring constantly with a fork or rubber spatula. Continue to stir until eggs are just setting but still soft and not dry. Pour eggs into a buttered 2-qt. baking dish and sprinkle with almonds. About 15 minutes before you're ready to serve, place scrambled eggs in a preheated 400° oven. Bake about 10 minutes until heated through and top is lightly browned. Serves 8-10.—Hessy Hiestand, Newport Beach, Calif.

FRENCH FRIED STUFFED EGGS

Mrs. Louis Haywood sends this unusual French Fried Stuffed Egg recipe to us from New Richmond, Indiana. While the origin of it is lost, it's been a family favorite for years. Mrs. Haywood especially remembers serving the eggs to her children and their friends at Easter brunch, along with sweet rolls and ambrosia. We think it's a tasty brunch idea for Easter or any other time of year.

12 hard cooked eggs
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup softened butter, sour cream or cottage cheese
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup prepared mustard
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{8}$  teaspoon white pepper
2 raw eggs, beaten
2 cups fine cracker crumbs or fresh bread crumbs
1 quart vegetable oil for deep-fat frying

Peel and cut eggs in half, keeping the whites together, so you can put the two halves back together later.

Sieve egg yolks. Add butter or sour cream or cottage cheese, mustard, salt and pepper. Fill halves (level) with yolk mixture. Put the two halves back together using toothpicks through egg at each end to hold firmly together.

Add raw eggs to leftover yolk mixture. Dip stuffed eggs into this mixture, then into crumbs.

Fry breaded eggs in vegetable oil heated to 350° for one-half to one minute or until golden brown. Remove toothpicks and serve hot. Makes 12 eggs.—Mrs. Louis L. Haywood, New Richmond, Indiana
