

FRESH MUSHROOM TARTLETS

"A savoury treat!"

SHELLS:

1 stick margarine, softened
3 ounces cream cheese, softened

1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

FILLING:

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 pound mushrooms (your choice, or a mixture of button, portabello, cremini, and shitake), finely chopped
2 teaspoons finely chopped shallots or green onions

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 - 1 teaspoon fresh thyme
1 teaspoon flour
1/2 cup heavy cream or half and half

...from our collection of family favorites

Shells: Mix all shell ingredients well. Form walnut-sized balls of mixture and use thumbs to press into ungreased miniature muffin tins. Set aside.

Filling: Heat butter or margarine in skillet over low heat. Add mushrooms, onions, salt and pepper. Cook over medium heat until vegetables are just soft. Sprinkle with flour and cook 1-2 minutes, stirring constantly. Slowly add cream or half and half, stirring constantly until thickened. Cool slightly.

To prepare tarts, fill each shell with filling. Bake in a preheated 450-degree oven for 15-18 minutes, or until filling is set and shells are golden.

Yields 24 tartlets.

Note: For ease of serving, make dough 2-3 days ahead; chill until ready to use. Early in the day, bake tarts for 12-14 minutes. Remove from oven, cool and refrigerate until ready to serve. Pop back in preheated oven for 4-6 minutes or until heated through.

“Make plenty; they’ll go quickly!”

The use of this material and the words ‘Words Worth Eating’ are licensed by Jacquelyn G. Legg.