

Ukrop's Words Worth Eating

SPICY STIR-FRIED ASPARAGUS

"With red peppers and walnuts!"

1 1/2 pounds fresh asparagus
2 tablespoons peanut oil
2 teaspoons finely minced fresh ginger
1 clove garlic, finely minced
1/2 cup slivered sweet red pepper

1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 tablespoon chicken broth
1 tablespoon Szechwan sauce
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 cup coarsely chopped
walnuts

Wash and trim asparagus; cut into diagonal slices. Heat oil in wok or large skillet; add asparagus and stir-fry for 2 minutes. Remove from pan. Stir ginger and garlic into skillet; add red pepper and stir-fry one minute. Add soy sauce, broth, Szechwan sauce and sugar. Return asparagus to skillet; heat through. Place on serving plate and sprinkle with walnuts. Serves 6.

Note: The spicy flavor of this dish can be varied by the amount of Szechwan sauce used.

“Serve with grilled lamb and fresh fruit!”