

Words Worth Eating

BAKED FRESH FILLET OF COD

"Topped with lemon butter and parsley!"

8-16 ounces fresh cod fillets
1-2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cracked pepper
4-6 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1/2-1 cup Ritz cracker crumbs
(approximately 12-24 crackers)

1/4-1/2 teaspoon fresh lemon juice, for topping
1-2 tablespoons butter,
melted, for topping
1-2 teaspoons fresh minced
parsley, for topping
1 sliced lemon, for garnish

Preheat oven to 450. Rinse fillets and pat dry. Sprinkle fillets generously with lemon juice, salt and pepper. Dip fillets in melted butter and then into crumbs. Pat fillets to coat well. Place fillets in a shallow glass baking dish. Bake approximately 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily when touched with a fork. Combine remaining lemon juice, melted butter and parsley; spoon over fillets and garnish with sliced lemon. Serves 3-4.

Note: Fillets of haddock or pollock can also be used in this recipe.

PRESERVING FRESHNESS AT HOME: For superb seafood enjoyment, prepare fillets on the day of purchase. Maintain fresh flavor by placing fillets in a covered glass dish in the coldest section of your refrigerator. Do not allow fillets to rest on ice or in water.

THE 10-MINUTE RULE: A 1-inch thick fillet bakes in 10 minutes at 400-450 degrees. When done, the fish flakes easily. Do not overbake; fish continues to cook after removal from oven.

“This extra-easy recipe is perfect for today’s busy cook!”

The use of this material and the words ‘Words Worth Eating’ is licensed by Jacquelyn G. Legg.