

Ukrop's Words Worth Eating

CHIMICHANGAS WITH CHICKEN FILLING

"Tomatillos make the filling deliciously spicy!"

1 3-4 pound chicken, cut into pieces or 3 cups cooked chicken, boned, skin removed 1 onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons oil
1 13-ounce jar of tomatillo salsa*
1/2 teaspoon salt

1/4 cup fresh cilantro leaves, coarsely chopped
8 flour tortillas, softened oil for frying TOPPINGS: (your choice)
sour cream
chopped tomatoes

(over)

diced onions minced fresh cilantro

diced chilies salsa

Cover chicken with cold water, bring to boil, cover, reduce heat and simmer for 45 minutes until very tender. Allow chicken to cool in broth. Remove chicken from bones, discard skin and bones. Save broth if desired for another recipe. Shred chicken; set aside. In a medium skillet, saute' onion and garlic in oil until onions are transparent. Add tomatillo salsa and salt. Bring to boil, reduce heat and simmer 5-8 minutes to reduce liquid. Add chicken and cilantro, cook 10 minutes. Fill each tortilla with several spoonfuls of filling. Roll one side of tortilla toward center, folding in a small portion of each end toward center. Continue rolling tortilla and secure with a toothpick. Heat oil in skillet to 400 degrees; fry rolled tortilla until golden crisp, turning once. Drain on paper toweling. Remove toothpicks and add toppings. Makes 8 chimichangas.

*If tomatillo salsa is not available, 2 8-ounce cans diced tomatoes with chilies, drained slightly can be substituted.

NOTE: Chimichangas are great with any leftover meat. Shred leftover beef, pork or chicken and saute' with onions and garlic. Add chopped green chilies or salsa of your choice and cook, assemble and fry as above.

"Tomatillos and cilantro give this dish authentic Mexican flavor!"

The use of this material and the words 'Words Worth Eating' is licensed by Jacquelyn G. Legg.