

EGGS FU YUNG

1 teaspoon soy sauce

1 teaspoon dark molasses

1 teaspoon cider
vinegar

2 teaspoons
cornstarch

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup canned
chicken broth,
undiluted

1 cup finely chopped
cooked ham

or pork

1 cup canned bean
sprouts, drained

1 cup finely chopped
onion

6 eggs, slightly beaten

1 teaspoon salt

1 tablespoon soy sauce

Salad oil

In top of double boiler, combine 1 teaspoon soy sauce, molasses, vinegar, and cornstarch, stirring until smooth.

Then gradually stir in chicken broth; over direct heat, bring to boiling, stirring. Reduce heat, and simmer 10 minutes. Sauce will be thickened and translucent. Keep warm over hot water.

In large bowl, combine ham, bean sprouts, and onion. Add eggs, salt, and 1 tablespoon soy sauce, stirring just until combined.

Slowly heat a little oil in small skillet. Add egg mixture, about 2 tablespoons at a time (as for pancakes). Sauté, turning once, just until browned on both sides. Remove, and keep warm. Repeat until egg mixture is used. Arrange "pancakes" on hot platter. Pour the hot sauce over them. Makes 4 to 6
