

Ukrop's Words Worth Eating

GRILLED BRATWURST WITH SAUERKRAUT "An Oktoberfest specialty!"

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1 32-ounce jar fresh sauerkraut,
rinsed and drained | 1-2 teaspoons white wine
Worcestershire sauce |
| 2 golden delicious apples,
peeled and diced | 2 tablespoons brown sugar |
| 1/2 cup chicken broth | 6-8 bratwurst |
| 3-4 tablespoons spiced
German vinegar | 1-2 cups milk, heated |
| | 1-2 tablespoons margarine |
| | 2-4 tablespoons spicy German
mustard |
- (over)

*1 apple, sliced for garnish
caraway seeds, optional*

dark pumpernickel bread

Prepare sauerkraut before grilling bratwurst. Place sauerkraut, apples, chicken broth, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce and brown sugar in a covered saucepan; cook over low heat for 30-40 minutes. During last 15 minutes of cooking time, prepare bratwurst. (See below.) Place drained sauerkraut on a platter. Top with grilled bratwurst. Spoon a dollop of mustard on top of each sausage. Garnish with apple slices and serve with dark bread. Serves 4-6.
TO COOK BRATWURST: Place bratwurst and milk in heavy saucepan; bring to boil, cover and cook on lowest heat for 10 minutes. Remove sausages from pan and grill on a lightly greased griddle or frying pan until golden brown on all sides.

Note: Sauerkraut can be prepared ahead.

"Serve with German potato salad!"

The use of this material and the words 'Words Worth Eating' is licensed by Jacquelyn G. Legg.