

Joe's Stone Crab Mustard Sauce

Makes about $\frac{1}{2}$ cup.

Start to finish: 5 minutes.

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup real mayonnaise, preferably Hellmann's
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons dry mustard, preferably Colman's Dry English Mustard
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, preferably Lea and Perrins
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon steak sauce, preferably A1 Steak Sauce
- 1 tablespoon half-and-half
- $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon salt, optional

1. Whisk all the dressing ingredients together until the mustard is completely incorporated.

2. To serve, place a dollop of sauce on top of a cooked fish fillet, or serve it as a dipping sauce with other types of seafood. (The seafood can be either chilled or hot). The sauce can be refrigerated, covered, for up to 2 days.

Cook's notes: The original Joe's recipe specifies the indicated brand-name products, and we use them to get as close as we can to Joe's famous flavor. However, you may substitute other brands.
