

Ukrop's

Words Worth Eating

NEW ORLEANS FISH FILLETS

"Topped with almond butter sauce!"

6 fish fillets

(approximately 1/2-inch thick)

1-1 1/2 cups milk

1/2-1 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper

pinch red pepper

1/2 cup flour

10 tablespoons butter

or margarine

4 tablespoons corn oil

1/2-3/4 cup sliced almonds

1-1 1/2 teaspoons

Worcestershire sauce

2-6 drops Tabasco

(over)

*2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice 2 tablespoons fresh minced
parsley, for trim*

Soak fillets in milk for 30 minutes; drain and dry well. Season with salt, pepper, and red pepper. Dust lightly with flour and set aside. Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a heavy skillet; add oil. When oil sizzles, sauté fillets 2-3 minutes per side. Cook until golden brown; do not overcook! Drain fillets and keep warm while preparing sauce. Drain skillet and add remaining butter or margarine; when melted add almonds and cook over low heat until golden. Add remaining ingredients except parsley; heat well and pour over fillets. Garnish with parsley. Serves 4-6.

Note: Any firm white fish fillets can be used in this recipe.

"A sensationally spicy flavor!"